Introducing to Men of the Service in Washington

A Superior Quality Munson-Last Regulation Army Shoe

This is the last devised by the Army Board headed by Maj. William Munson, and is undoubtedly the best for Army use.

Shoes made on the Munson last fit closely around the heel and up to the ball of the foot. The soft toe gives sufficient room for the proper spreading of the toes and functioning of every muscle of

Made of heavy tan grain leather, half bellows tongue, heavy drill lining, best white oak sole.

They conform in every detail to Army

In perfection of foot efficiency these shoes are unsurpassed. All the armies of the world look upon this last as the best for soldiers' feet.

There is a large attendance at these bases of preparedness, especially in the evenings. The usefulness of the shooting gallery as a patriotic spur to young men is said by army officers ists to be very great, but one disagreeable feature of many of the resorts is the chnoxious fumes caused by the use of the cheap powder in the cartridges. MAKE MINERAL WATER AT HOME

New Natural Iron Preparation Makes Home-made Mineral Water Possible.

Equal to Other Famous Waters.

We all know that a good mineral water 's of exceptional value at this time of the year when the blood is changing from the thick warm fluid of winter to the thinning out process of the summer time. It is at this time that we are more apt to contract dis-ease. A good natural mineral water taken at this time will stave off danger from infection. Herein is given a simple, economical means of making a high grade mineral water at home.

Secretary Says Liquor Selling to Men in Uniform Will Be

In a signed article to the Nationa War Council of the Y. M. C. A., Secretary of the Navy Daniels yesterda; assured the mothers of the boys who are to fight the battles of the nation on the sea that the Navy Department has taken upon itself the role of guardian for the protection of the moral and physical capacities of the men who enlist for service aboard the men-of-war, of the 'nited States navy, Mr. Daniels declares that, although the authorities of a prominent sur the authorities of a prominent summe resort were satisfied with the check cleaned, absolutely, of all the places of ill fame which were being operated within the precious of training sta-tions for the naval recruits.

Discusses Recent Crusade.

"Of all the sacrifices that have been made," writes Secretary Daniels, "that are being made, or that will be made for our country in this war, there is no sacrifice so heroic, so unselfish, so terrible, as the sacrifice of the mother who sends her son, in his strong, clean young manhood, from the protecting influence of his home, to live, to fight, to die, if needs be, with no one near to guide or advise him, save his millitary superiors. No men can fully realize what this sacrifice means; only a mother's heart can under-means. There is nothing so important from a military standpoint as the morale of the men, and morale and morals in the long run are synonomous. Nature invariably punishes the offender against her laws by disease. A sallor or a solder to be efficient must be healthy, to be healthy he must be clean-living. A man in the military service, stricken by any of the diseases that follow excess or unclean living, is as dead for military purposes as if he was stricken by the enemy's fire."

Regarding the effect of his instructed crusade against vice in Newport. R. I., Secretary Daniels says: "There has been eatablished a new order of things at Newport that will remain so long as the navy remains there. Either the naval establishment there or the bawdy house will go.

"As for those who seek to make profit by selling liquor against the law to men in juniform the hand of from a military standpoint as the
